Senior Full Stack Developer

Bilingual, 5+ years experience, Remote

About Us

NetMidas is a software development company based in Cali since 2007. We have produced websites and web applications for a broad range of clients, including large multinationals (including Apple), startups, and international NGOs, as well as our products. We seek a tailored Full Stack developer to work directly with an exciting US client.

About our client

The client is a US digital agency that specializes in building and supporting powerful websites and web applications for businesses that generate revenue online. They are strategic thinkers who integrate design, marketing, and technology to grow businesses and impact. They are looking for an experienced Full Stack Developer to be a key member of their development team, focused on performing various activities.

Requirements

Must Haves:
- Excellent English communication skills (Professionally fluent, minimum level B2) (Client-facing)
- 5+ years of experience in web development (80% Front-end - 20% Back-end)
- Proficiency in React for front-end web development
- Proven experience working with Redux and Context
- Solid knowledge of Native JavaScript

- Proven experience with SASS
- Solid knowledge of GIT
- Previous experience working with international clients
- Ability to work cross-functionally, independently, and effectively as an individual contributor in a team environment and meet tight deadlines
- Ability to analyze web-based problems; and develop and implement solutions

Nice to Haves:
- Proven knowledge using Gutenberg WordPress
- Proven working experience with Vue
- Proficient in development with TypeScript
- Previous working experience using Bootstrap, Tailwind CSS
- Previous experience working with CMS
- Proven working experience in WordPress (Custom Plugins, Custom templates)
- Proven experience development of Headless Plugins integration (React - WordPress)
- Basic knowledge of PHP
- Experience in Next.js

Soft Skills:
- An emphasis on clean code is a high-priority
- Have constant communication with your immediate bosses, such as your project manager (don't be afraid to ask for meetings if you need clarification, but don't overdo it).
- Have the ability to obtain and follow the necessary guidelines and adapt work methods, procedures, or techniques to perform the assigned work within the timelines committed (It is important to read the documentation before starting any development)
- A consultant's mindset. Assume nothing you find has to be the way it is. Ability to keep eyes open for better/easier/simpler/cheaper ways of doing things, recommend them, and oversee improvements
- Comfortable researching and testing solutions and best practices, and able to find the most efficient solution for the selected task
- Ability to tell about the problem and/or make a resolution for an issue
- Following personal deadlines and estimating different tasks
- Collaborate with other colleagues from different expert areas
- Fun, easy-going, and service-centered heart

Compensation, Contract, Terms

- This is a part-time position 10 to 15 hours per week. Ideally to work Wednesdays and Thursdays.

- USD 30 per hour, paid monthly.
- Contract: freelance (prestación de servicios) with our company in the US.
- This is a remote position and you will work in the Pacific time zone.
- Start date: March 2024.

Application process

- Send your CV to DM with the subject 'Senior Fullstack Dev' and a short text explaining your work history, capabilities, and interests.
- Then you will be invited to take a technical test and a series of interviews and evaluations.
- The interview process will be completed within 10 days of our first conversation!